

I was outraged to learn that Sinclair Broadcasting plans to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election. This is totally unfair and a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. Clearly this action is not in the public interest. It would be wonderful if the FCC could do something to stop Sinclair from airing this anti-Kerry program.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard. Thank you.
